

Greetings from CMTI

We are pleased to inform you that, we are conducting a 02 days Non-Residential “Awareness Training programme on ISO/IEC 17025: 2017”, is Scheduled to commence from 16th - 17th April 2018.

Highlights of the Training Program:

NABL (National Accreditation Board for Testing & Calibration Laboratories) provides laboratory accreditation services to all laboratories performing calibrations /tests. To get accredited by NABL, the laboratories should be able to demonstrate that they operate a quality management system, technical competence and are able to generate technically valid results, compliant with international standard ISO /IEC 17025. This standard is reissued in Nov 2017 after amendment. The laboratories are required to transform the existing documentation system which is based on ISO/IEC 17025-2005 version to latest 2017 version. The course aims at making the participants understand all the clauses of the new standard & in turn will be able to develop the documents required for accreditation based on 2017 version standard. This standard is applicable to the laboratory activities consisting of testing, calibration & sampling activity. The course provides insight into all the requirements of ISO/IEC 1025-2017. On completion of the course, the participants can, develop and implement quality management system and, plan and conduct internal audits.

Target Group: Quality Managers / Technical Managers / Senior Lab Personnel from Calibration and Testing Laboratories
